

problem is that when I have cable modem network at my home, and while somebody is uploading music or play video games then my video phone get laggy, because comcast is not providing enough upload speed or we need other cable modem just for vp-100. I have geek brothers and its not possible for me to use video phone while they're on computers.

Thank you for your time.